FIRST AID TO INJURED

The Seaman's Institute
Plans to Learn.

The fatal accident to a sailor aboard the ship George Curtis the other day and the lack of first practical aid to the injured man, has created a demand for instruction in "first aid to the injured," and the matter is now being taken up by St. Andrew's Brotherhood of the Episcopal Church.

Secretary Churton of the Brotherhood has conferred with the various members of the organization who have expressed themselves favorably to the plan of receiving and giving instruction in this important work. Manager Everton of the Seaman's Institute is interested in the proposition and has offered the use of the Institute rooms at the foot of Nuuanu street to the Brotherhood in which to learn the art.

Mr. Everton has sent to San Francisco for the necessary books and charts bearing on first aids to the injured and upon the arrival of these definite plans for instruction will be developed. The Brotherhood expect to enlist the service of a physician who may interest himself in the work to the extent of giving lectures and practical demonstrations.

Seaman's Institutes all over the world have a first aid to the injured adjunct to their regular work and the inauguration of the lecture course here will be but carrying out the Institute plans.

VISITORS MUST LEAVE EARLY

An order has been issued by Hackfeld & Co., agents of the Pacific Mail, Toyo Kisen Kaisha and O. & O. steamship lines, that hereafter visitors aboard the vessels of these fleets must leave the ships half an hour before the scheduled sailing time. Beginning with this morning the order will go into effect with the Japanese liner Nippon Maru, which is scheduled to sail for the Orient at 9 o'clock. All visitors must go ashore at 8:30. The order will be strictly enforced on all vessels touching here represented by Hackfeld & Co. The same order applies to the vessels at San Francisco.

New Year's Advertiser ready for mailing at 5c each to be had at the office.

KUHIO DOES NOT ASSUME ROYAL AIRS

The Washington Star says:

For the first time in the history of the country a prince occupies a seat in the halls of Congress—a relative of the deposed Queen, Liliuokalani, who has knocked so long and so persistently at its doors for justice, or what she calls justice. His dusky highness, however, assumes none of the airs of royalty, as did the former Queen of Hawaii upon her first visits to this country, and being a thorough man of the world and an observing individual withal, he is not likely to make himself ridiculous.

The Hawaiian Delegate and his wife, the Princess Kalaniana'ole, have leased the home of the late E. C. Cutler, in K Street, and live there in comparative retirement. They have no retinue of servants, neither does the interior of the house resemble a semi-Oriental palace, as has often been stated. The furnishings of the home remain much the same as when occupied by the Cutler family. A piece or two of Oriental drapery and a few bits of bric-a-brac are the only innovations. On the walls still hang old portraits of the Cutler and Kendall families, and nowhere are there to be seen evidences of that semi-barbaric splendor of which Americans have heard so much.

That the Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole will entertain in true, but not on the magnificent scale mapped out for them, their house being much too small to permit them to indulge their hospitable inclinations.

MAKING THEIR WAY AROUND THE WORLD.

A sturdy little Hungarian, Andrew Chrometz by name, came ashore from the Nippon Maru yesterday to call on the Austrian consul and see the sights. He is walking and earning his way around the world. A sad-eyed dog which he took with him when he left his home at Turocz Sct. Marton, Sept. 1, 1901, accompanied him. Mr. Chrometz had eighteen cents when his tour began and appears to have as much as thirty cents now. He has visited Poland, Austria, Germany, Holland, Ireland, United States and Canada and is going through to Japan, China, Persia, India, Africa and Australia. He is due at home in 1906. Mr. Chrometz met a Miss Jarboe at Edwards' Falls, Md., and became engaged to her, the marriage to take place when he gets through walking.

Two young fellows who look bright and enterprising are working on the transport from Manila and thus getting ahead in a tour around the world. They are H. O. Arguello and Deulofen, Cubans. Two or more years ago they left Havana to see the earth and expect to get back there in a month or six weeks, via New Orleans.

ATKINSON GETS HIS COMMISSION.

The mail from the coast yesterday brought the commission of Mr. Atkinson as Secretary of the Territory and he took the oath before Chief Justice Frear. The Secretary leaves this morning on the Iroquois for a land inspection tour which he anticipates will be a hard job.

Ancestral right: "It all seems so strange," said Miss Roxie MacKinnon, the heiress, who was engaged to the foreign count, "that I am to have a coronet." "Faith, not at all," replied the old servant of the family, "for that's what yer gran father had before ye, an' 'twas all he had." "What do you mean?" "A car an' net. 'Twas when he caught fish an' peddled 'em o' Galway Bay."—Philadelphia Press.
